

CATHOLIC SCHOOL FORMALLY BLESSED

Seminary of Our Lady Immaculate.

CARDINAL GIBBONS THERE

Simple But Imposing Ceremony.
School Was Built by Sisters of Providence.

The formal ceremony of blessing the Seminary of Our Lady Immaculate, on Wisconsin avenue, at the corner of Nebraska avenue, Tenleytown, was performed this morning at 10 o'clock by the Right Rev. Cardinal James Gibbons, of Baltimore. The ceremony, though simple, was imposing.

At the appointed hour the cardinal, assisted by priests and attendant acolytes, all in ceremonial vestments, offered from the east front of the building a solemn prayer of blessing, the priests chanting the response in unison. The cardinal proceeded around the building, repeating a prayer, and then in orderly procession the building was entered and prayers were said in the chapel of the seminary.

After the prayer each room and hallway of the building was visited, the cardinal sprinkling holy water as an emblem of purification to the four corners of the rooms. When all the rooms had been visited by his eminence, he returned to the chapel, where the Litany of the Saints was chanted. From the chapel of the seminary the procession proceeded to the Church of St. Ann, in which parish the seminary is situated.

Gorgeous Decorations.

The building was beautifully decorated for the occasion. In every room were placed on tables large vases of asters, carnations, and roses. The altar of the chapel was brilliantly lighted with candles, and everywhere were flowers in profusion. Large palms were placed on each side and the vivid colors of the cardinal's robes blended with the many varieties of flowers. Cardinal Gibbons was accompanied in his procession by the Rt. Rev. Bishop F. S. Chatur, D. D., bishop of Indianapolis, and attending clergy.

The service in St. Ann's Church, of which the Rev. Father Mallon is pastor, was conducted by Bishop Chatur, rector of the cathedral of Indianapolis.

Solemn pontifical mass was sung by the bishop, the Rev. Thomas Harlin, S. J., pastor of Holy Trinity Church, Georgetown; the Rev. E. M. Buckley, of St. Matthew's Church, and the Rev. George Harrington, master of ceremonies. Cardinal Gibbons also participated in the services. The sermon of the occasion was preached by the Rev. Father F. X. McCarthy, of St. Aloysius' Church.

When the church services were over, the procession returned to the immaculate building, where luncheon was served in one of the large halls. The table was artistically decorated with flowers and on the walls of the room were banners bearing the coat-of-arms of the cardinal. A picture of the cardinal, placed in the picture of the cardinal, was placed in the picture of the cardinal.

Music and Recitations.

After luncheon there was a program of music and recitation by the pupils of St. Mary's of the Woods Seminary, and Sister Cecile Campau rendered several selections on the harp.

The benediction service will be held in the chapel at 4 o'clock this afternoon by Cardinal Gibbons and the immaculate will be illuminated tonight.

The deacons of honor to his eminence were the Rev. A. P. Doyle and the Rev. P. Manning. The Rev. T. G. Smith was master of ceremonies at the cardinal's throne. The Rev. F. Buel, president of Georgetown University, and the Rev. E. T. Kearney were deacons of honor to Bishop Chatur.

The seminary of the Immaculate was constructed by the Sisters of Providence, a religious order of the Catholic Church, the mother house of which is located in Terre Haute, Ind., near the well-known seminary of St. Mary of the Woods.

The building was constructed at an expense of $300,000, all of which was borne by the Sisters of Providence.

The students will consist of about forty boarders and seventy-five day scholars. Registration of pupils will begin on the 15th of this month and classes will be started on the 25th instant.

The Rev. Mother Mary Cecilia, general superior of the Order of St. Mary of the Woods, in this country, is here with the twelve sisters from the Seminary of St. Mary of the Woods.

The "Immaculate" will be presided over by Sister Superior, Francis Helen, who until recently was in charge of the School of St. Agnes, in Indianapolis, which is also conducted by the Sisters of Providence.

Carroll Institute will admit non-Catholics.

Important and somewhat radical changes were made last night in the constitution and rules heretofore in vogue at Carroll Institute.

At a meeting of the board of directors, and about forty of the members of the institute, held last night, thirteen amendments to the old constitution were adopted, which will tend to broaden the field of operation, and, under favorable circumstances, enable the building up of the club to rank as the foremost of its kind in the United States.

Heretofore the constitution was considered so conservative as to impede the branching out of the institute, but under the new rules a provision has been made for admitting non-Catholics to membership. The second amendment, which bears upon that subject, follows:

"The board of directors may also grant the use of the gymnasium, bowling alleys, or other features of the institute to non-Catholics on such terms and conditions as it may prescribe."

The adoption of this amendment, it is thought, will serve as the magnet to draw members to the athletic features of the club, and to make the institute more universally known.

The first amendment to the constitution provides for the admission of distinguished Catholic clergymen and authors to an honorary membership, with all the privileges of an active member except the right to vote.

COLORED CHILDREN WORK FOR HONORS

Final Meet at Playgrounds in Progress.

CONTESTANTS IN GOOD TRIM

Prizes Will Be Awarded the Successful Athletes by Commissioner West.

The final meet of the public playgrounds for colored children is in progress this afternoon at the Coliseum, Fourteenth and A streets northeast. The preliminary events took place at 1:30 o'clock and at 3:30 the finals were started.

Tomorrow the meet for the white children will be held. Gold, silver and bronze medals will be awarded in all the events. They will be presented to the winners by Commissioner West.

The boys and girls have been training diligently for the meet, and are in good trim. Bernard J. Webers, athletic director for all the play grounds, is more than pleased with the results of the trial heats during the week. In discussing the meet this morning he said that the showing made by the little fellows in the dashes was quite wonderful, and that the final events would be closely contested and interesting to outsiders as well as to those taking an active interest in the grounds.

Crowds Gathered Early.

As early as noon today the stands and bleachers at the Coliseum began to fill. Parents of nearly all the contestants were present and many a proud mother and father cheered their son or daughter to victory in a close race.

Two handsome championship banners have been presented by The Times for both white and colored contestants winning the most points in the meet. In competing for this banner first place will count five points, second place three points and third place one point. All those coming up to a certain standard have been awarded championship ribbons and the buttons will count as five points toward winning the banner.

The standard which had to be attained before a button was awarded follows:

Boys under thirteen years of age, 60-yard dash in 3-5 seconds; pull up on horizontal bar, four times; standing broad jump, 5 feet 9 inches.

Boys under 15 years of age, 100-yard dash in 14 seconds; pull up on horizontal bar, six times; standing broad jump, 6 feet 6 inches.

In the middle of the summer a test was made at all the playgrounds, but none of the boys or girls were proficient enough to qualify in everything. A few days ago Supervisor Cord made another trip around the different playgrounds and the following easily equaled the standard:

North Capitol and L streets grounds—Henry McVey, Edward Connor, Irving Head, Elton Bragg, Earl Devine.

Southwest grounds—Charles Thompson, Clarence Stevens, Benjamin Will, Theodore Matthews, Wallace Broadus, James Mack, and James Blackwell.

Southeast grounds—William Bean, Edward Cable, and Alvin Woodston.

This shows conclusively the result of the systematic training, and the results which have been attained by the work this summer.

The officials for the meet this afternoon were:

Chairman, Dr. W. S. Montgomery; referee, B. J. Webers; starter, Garnett

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 8.—Capt. E. W. Jones, of the Seventy-first Virginia Regiment, charged with killing Maud Cameron Robertson, has waived examination and is held for the October grand jury.

The prisoner asked to be permitted to have in his cell a work on hypnotism and this request was granted. Commonwealth's Attorney Tilton said he had no idea that any hypnotist could be used on the jury which will try Captain Jones in a month.

Murders His Brother Because He Teased

Blacksmith Richard Chase, in a Frenzy of Rage, Crushes His Skull With Sledge
Hammer After Warning Him.

Frenzied with anger, Richard Chase, a colored blacksmith, thirty-eight years of age, struck his brother, Henry Chase, in the head with a sledge hammer, killing him instantly, about 8 o'clock this morning.

One hour and fifteen minutes after the murder was committed Richard, familiarly known among his associates as "Hillbilly," was arrested by Policeman Joe Davis, of the Fourth precinct. He was locked up in the station house charged with murder. The inquest over the remains of the murdered man will probably be held some time tomorrow at the morgue.

In talking about the murder Richard said that this morning his brother was in a playful mood and would insist upon teasing him. He said that several times he told Henry to stop and leave him alone, but that the teasing continued. At last he jumped up and started for his brother, who grabbed up the sledge hammer. He also took hold and there ensued a scuffle over the hammer. At last he wrenched it loose and, blinded with anger, struck his brother over the head before he realized what he was doing.

Sounds of Scuffle.

Early this morning people in the vicinity of Chase's blacksmith shop, in Education alley, between Half and First and F and G streets southwest, heard cursing and sounds of a scuffle coming from the shop. Several persons rushed to the shop in time to hear the sound of a blow and the thud of a falling body.

Almost simultaneously Richard Chase appeared in the doorway of the shop with the broken handle of a blacksmith's sledge in his hand. His face was drawn with terror and his hand and the handle of the hammer were covered with blood. Upon seeing the people rushing into the shop he ran out of the rear door and made for the escape.

Entering the shop the persons who had heard the cries, saw Henry Chase lying on the ground with the blood gushing from a gaping wound in his temple.

Died Immediately.

The police were hurried to the scene of the crime. Not being sure whether the man was dead or not, they sent in a hurry call for the patrol wagon of No. 4, which was soon at the shop.

The driver pronounced the man dead, but to make sure he was hurried to the hospital. He was examined at the hospital by the resident physician, who pronounced him quite dead. There was a gaping wound about three inches deep in the man's left temple.

The neighborhood near the blacksmith shop was thoroughly scoured by the officers in search of Richard Chase, and a visit was paid to the man's home at 116 Van street southwest. It was learned that Richard had been there, changed his clothes, and gone away.

Just as the officers were leaving the house Policeman Davis heard an old colored woman tell another that Richard "Wan't a goin' to be cotched today."

She also told her friend that she thought he had gone to Anacostia. Policeman Davis questioned her as to whether or not she knew where the murderer had gone or could be found and she stoutly answered that she did not even know him.

Caught in Anacostia.

Davis believed otherwise and acting upon what he had heard her tell her cronies, took a car for Anacostia to head off the fugitive if he happened in that direction. Arriving at the corner of Eleventh and M streets southeast, Davis saw his man standing against a lamp post talking to several women. He placed the man under arrest.

Chase was taken to the Fourth precinct station house where he was locked up and questioned by Detectives Peck and Warren, of the Central office.

After striking his brother he rushed out of the shop and went home, where he changed his clothes and went away.

he changed his clothes and then started for Anacostia. On the way he met up with several friends and stopped to get a drink. The first drink was good, and he kept on drinking until at the time of his arrest he was in a drunken condition.

When interviewed by a Times reporter at the stationhouse Richard was so drunk and in such a dazed condition that he was unable to talk sensibly. Richard Chase has been arrested several times for drunkenness, and is known to the police as a bad man.

SWARTZELL TESTIFIES TO EDUCATION BOARD

Secret Sessions Are Held During Investigation of Eastern High School Troubles.

Moseheim F. F. Swartzell was the principal witness before the Board of Education at its "star chamber" meeting last night.

What information the board got from Mr. Swartzell relating to his administration of the Eastern High School could not be ascertained, but it was said that each member of the board subjected him to a very rigid examination.

The board, which is sitting as a committee of the whole, held last night's session behind closed doors, and when the meeting adjourned declined to even intimate whether they had gained any new evidence from Swartzell that would tend to establish his actions in the Eastern's trouble during the close of the last school year as legitimate.

It is understood that Swartzell completed his testimony last night, but he will attend each meeting of the board during the investigation in order to facilitate the work of the board in arriving at its final conclusions. Thomas
